

WILL APPOINT 154 OFFICIALS

GOVERNOR-ELECT SAMUEL M. RALSTON WILL HAVE BUSY TIME FOR A FEW MONTHS NAMING MEN FOR POSITIONS.

MANY ARE HIGH SALARIED

Samuel M. Ralston will be required to make 154 appointments, several of them to high salaried positions, during his four-year term as Governor of Indiana. Mr. Ralston has not consulted the official record to ascertain just what patronage he will have at his disposal, but it is said that he is getting first-hand information through numerous applications for position received since the election.

Mr. Ralston thus far has announced only one appointment, that of B. B. Johnson of Richmond, to serve as his private secretary. This position carries a salary of $2,500 a year. Before he is inaugurated, January 13, he is expected to announce the selection of an executive clerk and a stenographer, each to receive a salary of $900 a year.

Fifty-one of the 154 appointments will be made during the first year of his term. All but six of this number will be Democrats. Progressive or Republicans will be named to fill a board of trustees of various state institutions. All of the high-salaried positions, however, will go to Democrats. The terms of most of the Democratic members of the various state boards expire after the first year of the new administration.

One of the first appointments of importance to be made will be member of the railroad commission of Indiana to succeed W. J. Wood, whose term expires May 1, 1913. The salary is $4,000 a year.

A state veterinarian, at a salary of $100 a month and expenses, is to be appointed March 23, 1913, upon the expiration of the term of W. E. Coover of Monpelier. While the salary is not large, it is anticipated that the office will not go begging.

Another appointment to be made in 1913 will be a deputy in the board of public accounting office. The term of John H. Boltz of Winchester, Republican member of this board expires June 7. The salary is $3,000 a year. Mr. Ralston has not indicated whether he will appoint a Progressive or a Republican to fill the vacancy.

There will be another "plum" worth the knocking when C. C. Matson, Democrat, of Greencastle, completes his term, August 24, 1914, as a member of the state board of tax commissioners. The office pays $3,000 a year.

Two more vacancies will be created in December of next year upon the expiration of the terms of Adj. Gen. George W. McCoy of Vincennes and Quartermaster General Charles A. Garrard of Indianapolis. The former receives a salary of $2,250 and the salary of the latter is $1,200. Trustees of various state institutions receive $300 a year.

Large Audiences for Mr. Laidler.

Harry W. Laidler, who is to deliver a complementary lecture this evening in Philo Hall, has been addressing enthusiastic audiences in many of the colleges of the Central West. Monday he spoke at Northern Ohio University. He spoke to six different groups, one numbering twelve hundred. Yesterday he spoke at Purdue, and tomorrow, after his visit to this city, he will leave for Indiana University and Chicago. Although his specialty is addressing college men and women he is in close touch with all walks of life—a brilliant student of humanity.

CIVIC LEAGUE HAS DONE GOOD WORK

ANNUAL REPORT OF SECRETARY OF CHARITY ORGANIZATION GIVEN AT MEETING HELD WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

BOYS' CLUB WELL ATTENDED

The annual business meeting of the Civic League was held Wednesday afternoon. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: R. A. Ogg, president; Mrs. Phila Cole, vice president; Mrs. J. R. Miller, secretary; Miss Wilhelmina Lank, treasurer.

The following is the substance of the secretary's report as presented at the meeting Wednesday:

The league has maintained an Industrial School in a cottage on Elm street, the use of which has been donated by Mrs. Lillie Landes and Miss Hallie Landes. The school is in session each Saturday afternoon. Miss Dell Miller is the superintendent and works with the general secretary of the league in planning and directing the school. There is one cooking class in charge of Miss Anna Stone, who is giving the course as taught at Purdue University. The three sewing classes taught by young ladies of DePauw University, who volunteered their services, are following the outline for sewing which is used in the Philadelphia schools. A display to be held at the end of the season is being planned, at which time the work of the year will be exhibited.

The Boy's Club is one of the most promising features of the work. Mr. Hulverson, who is in charge of the work, has had a wide experience with boys. He has been for three seasons with the Interlocken School at Peru, Indiana, and last summer was offered the work with the Boy's Clubs at Hall House, Chicago. The following is a part of his report to the general secretary of the work of the month:

The boy's club rooms are open on the following nights and afternoons: Monday—4:00 p. m. and 7:00 p. m. Tuesday—4:00 p. m. and 7:00 p. m. Wednesday—4:00 p. m. and 7:00 p. m. Thursday—4:00 p. m. and 7:00 p. m. Friday—4:00 p. m. and 7:00 p. m. Saturday—2:00 p. m. and 4:00 p. m.

At present the boys have one basketball, one wrestling mat and a set of boxing gloves and a punching bag.

The heaviest attendance is always in the evening after supper. During the afternoons there are about ten boys at the room as an average. After supper there is an average nightly of thirty-five to forty.

As a rule at night there are ten or twelve high school boys who are not members of the club at the rooms. They seem interested and offer no trouble. Often they wish to play, but in many cases this is impossible. Recently they have been boxing between themselves while the smaller boys played basketball. I wish that some way of caring for boys of this age and class might be arranged but at present can suggest no plan that would not call for more room space and possibly another person to oversee the work. No doubt if the room was available so that they could have some place to themselves they would be self-managing without direct supervision.

Such questions as swearing and the use of tobacco are caring for themselves. The boys themselves have taken the initiative in suppressing it and consequently I do not interfere. This attitude holds good only in the club rooms as yet and I know that several of the boys use tobacco outside. In this I can do no more than tell them that a boy is not physically able to grow and counteract the derogatory effects of nicotine at the same time.

During the last month (Sept. 25-Nov. 25) the rooms have been open forty-one times making a total of about eighty hours. The total attendance of the month will approximate 800 boys. This makes an average of 32 boys a day.

The games that were supplied last year have worn out, so that now we are practically without anything of the sort. I would suggest that we have a checker board, one or two card games, crocinole or caroms and if it can be arranged a new basketball.

Ten per cent. of the boys are working boys who do not attend school at all and twenty-five per cent. of the boys who are attending school are doing some sort of regular work.

While the present rate of increase in membership can not be kept up it is probable that there will be over fifty boys in the club by Christmas, and if there were more room so that Mr. Weatherwax could install a few electrical appliances we could interest ten to fifteen more. If it were possible to accommodate the high school boys probably from ten to twenty of them would join. This would give a membership of approximately seventy-five.

Passes to the last three football games were given to the boys through the kind co-operation of the DePauw Athletic Board and Tracy Redding, who interested the board in doing this.

The boys take slowly to the self-governing idea and it will take some effort before they are able to handle the plan properly. However, when this is accomplished I believe that they will take a keener interest and that the club will be a permanent thing.

The town improvement work seems very discouraging, especially when one passes the down town alleys. Much work has been done, however. Clean up day and the essays by the school children, resulted in many private yards being cleaned, especially in the south end of town.

The attention of the marshal was called to many of the worst weed patches and they were cleaned out. Under the head of town improvement the general secretary acted as distributing agent for road oil and last summer put 12,445 gallons of oil on the streets of Greencastle, at a cost of $510.38.

During the year the secretary has made about 500 calls in the homes of and in the interest of the needy families of Greencastle. The best work done there has been along the line of helping them to help themselves. Forty families have received some aid and about 800 servicable garments have been distributed.

In several cases the burden of support has been shifted from the public to relatives whose duty it was to care for the needy individuals.

There have been about 50 committee meetings held during the year. The general secretary attended the State Charity Conference at Logansport, Ind., a conference of the Organized Charity Secretaries of the State at Indianapolis, and spent one week in Delaware, Ohio, studying the work of the Federation, an organization similar to the Civic League of this city.

PLAN TO LEASE MANY ORCHARDS

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY OF PUTNAM COUNTY MET WEDNESDAY NIGHT AND DISCUSSED WHAT COULD BE DONE FOR HORTICULTURE IN PUTNAM COUNTY.

THE TREES ARE NEGLECTED

At a meeting of the Putnam County Horticultural Society held Wednesday night at the home of Prof. R. A. Ogg, the question of what could be done for horticulture in Putnam county was discussed. The meeting was not largely attended but was enthusiastic.

The general census of opinion was that the orchards in Putnam county are neglected and that if they were properly attended the apple crops would be much larger. After a general discussion of the question it was determined to propose an organization of horticulturists who will lease orchards and care for them. The company would give the orchard the best of care and pay all expense for the cultivation and care of the trees. S. A. Hays, R. M. Hazelett and John McFarland were appointed a committee to investigate the situation, preparatory to organizing such a company, and the committee will report at the next meeting of the society to be held January 10.

SUDDEN HALT IS TAKEN BY STATE

PROSECUTION IN TANSEL MURDER CASE RESTS WITH MANY WITNESSES UNEXAMINED—COURT BARS TESTIMONY LATER GIVEN BY OTHERS.

ATTORNEYS HAVE DISPUTE

WINCHESTER, Ind., Dec. 11.—The state rested this evening in the trial of Charles and Ruskin Tansel, charged with the second degree murder. Surprise swept the court room when Attorney Henry N. Spain, assisting the state, announced this. The state had subpoenaed about fifty-five witnesses and used but fifteen. The court room was filled to capacity all day.

Samuel Holsapple, proprietor of a local livery barn, testified that on Oct. 4 Charles Tansel made a threat toward Robert N. Krofft, the murdered man, in which he said: "Bob has crossed my path as often as I am to let him. If he crosses it again there will be something doing."

Colonel N. Steed, a farmer of Ward Township, said he added in dragging Krofft from the street to the sidewalk. It was during Steed's testimony that a dispute arose between the state and defense. Steed was asked by the state what, if any, were the statements made by Krofft when he was near him. The defense objected on the grounds that it would be stating conclusions and not facts, and Judge Engle, after a wrangle between attorneys, sustained the objection.

Others Tell Story.

Claud Barnes, employed in the office of Goodrich Bros., and the Rev. Warren Wall testified as to the statements made by Krofft during the same period as Steed was about to relate. This was done in the absence of the jury.

In the afternoon the clothes worn by Krofft on the day he was stabbed were introduced in evidence by the state. The jury examined the coat and vest, which were bloody and plainly showed the gashes which the state avers were made by the knife in the hands of Ruskin Tansel.

Robert N. Krofft's dying statement was also introduced as evidence. The defense objected to this on the ground that the question asked Krofft on his deathbed were not taken down by the stenographer.

The statement was given to the jury through direct examination handled by Attorney Spain. The defense has not as yet told what plea will be made. The general supposition is that it will be self-defense on the part of a son for his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen were married in this city about a year ago. Mr. Allen is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, now residents of Indianapolis, but for many years residents of Greencastle.

Fire—Loss One Parrot!

Fire entailed a loss of one parrot and a small curtain used to cover Polly's cage occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Grubb, on north Jackson street, about 1:15 o'clock this afternoon. The parrot's life was not insured. The origin of the fire is a mystery, but it is believed that the parrot "scratched a match" which was accidentally in the cage.

Mrs. Grubb, who is quite sick, was in another room when she heard the parrot fluttering and making other mute pleas for assistance. She went into the room where the parrot was to investigate and found the cloth around the parrot's cage was ablaze. She grasped the cage and started to carry it from the house.

The flames from the burning cloth caused Mrs. Grubb's clothing to catch afire and she was forced to drop the cage and parrot to save herself from injuries. The flames also had caught the wall papering. The fire department was called but neighbors had extinguished the fire before the wagons arrived. The loss was confined principally to the parrot, which was unable to survive its burns.

TOWN TALKS OF MIRAGE

EXPLAINS ATTITUDE OF FACULTY AND SPEAKS OF PROBABLE ACTION.

THE COMMITTEE MEETS TODAY

"If the parents back home, who are paying the expenses of sons and daughters in DePauw, should declare in favor of the Mirage, I would take it as the strongest argument for the continuance of the book as an annual publication."

Thus Dr. S. B. Town, financial secretary of DePauw, outlined his attitude on the question of the Mirage petitions yesterday.

"Our point of view throughout this whole discussion," Dr. Town went on, "has been that of the student body and the folks back home. We are endeavoring to do the best for all the parties concerned."

In speaking of the old bi-annual system Dr. Town said:

"The Mirage has been a bi-annual publication ever since the first until the one put out by the class of 1910. In 1909, the no-mirage year, the seniors published a smaller book called the Sombbrero. The next year, being the regular year, the Mirage appeared as usual. The year after that, 1911, the junior class published another year book to which the executive committee interposed no objection."

"Many of the students seem to think that the action of the executive committee an entirely new plan, but this is a mistake."

Regarding the signers of the petitions and those most interested in retaining the work in its present form, Dr. Town said that the Mirage was an expense which many students would bear but into which they were drawn involuntarily because they were members of this class or that social organization. Practically all were in favor of the book, he insisted, because they did not want to be known as a "tightwad" or a "knocker" by declaring against it.

"Do you know," he continued, "exactly 43 per cent. of the students last year were working their way through school?"

"It always costs between 2 and 3 thousand dollars to put out a Mirage, a large amount which takes no account of the most of individual or group pictures."

The Mirage petitioners will be considered by the executive committee at its regular meeting at 4:30 o'clock this evening.

"I have no doubt that the committee," said Dr. Town, "will give the petitioners the fairest possible consideration and will try to do above all what is best for the students themselves."

WHO WANTS DEPAUW WHISTLE?

Prof. Naylor Favors the Idea and Suggests a College Call.

Professor Naylor has recently conceived the idea of having a DePauw whistle. The whistle which he proposes is taken from the DePauw song. It consists of the first four notes of the verse, then the fifth and fundamental.

In speaking of the above Professor Naylor said, "I conceived the idea the other day in Indianapolis. I saw some DePauw people at a distance whom I wished very much to see but I had no way of calling them. Of course the fraternities and sororities have their own whistles but I think that it would be an excellent plan to have a school call."

In regard to the whistle which he proposed he said, "My idea in choosing that one was because it would be so easily learned and recognized when heard. Everyone knows the DePauw song and a whistle taken from it would be easily put into use."

BIG SHOOTING AFFRAY

AFTER QUARRELLING STUDENTS RESORT TO BLOWS AND SHOOTING FOLLOWS.

DEBATE CLASS WILL TRY CASE

A shot from a revolver held by Raymond Jackson, seriously injuring Richard Barnes, enlivened what might otherwise have been a dull chapel period to the loafers about Chas. Bell's Little Drug Shop this morning.

The shooting was an entirely unpremeditated affair, it is alleged by some of the spectators, but although Jackson and Barnes have been on the strained relations for some time, the exact cause which led to the attempt murder this morning is not known.

Jackson entered the Little Drug Shop immediately after 9 o'clock classes were out, and was standing in the front part of the store when Barnes made his appearance. The two had stood for a short time gazing towards each other, when Barnes suddenly walked up to Jackson and demanded that the latter bear his pardon for a statement made recently concerning his character. Jackson immediately refused and a short fist fight ensued, Jackson seeming to obtain a slight supremacy over his adversary.

Barnes, however, waited his chance and, catching Jackson off his guard, landed him a terrific blow in the chest and sent him sprawling in one of the front corners of the store.

"Just wait, I'll get you" exclaimed Jackson, whipping a large Colt's revolver from his pocket. Barnes saw that Jackson intended to shoot, and tried to find refuge behind one of the nearby counters, but had scarcely moved when Jackson fired and ran out the door.

The bullet is said to have entered the left arm just below the shoulder. Barnes at first seemed to be very weak, but was soon able to rise from the floor and to walk unassisted to the Delta U house, where he received medical attention. He is at present suffering from his injury, and his arm will probably be useless for several weeks.

Jackson was last seen at the Delta house, asking what would be the quickest way to leave town. It is thought that he left on the Interurban for Indianapolis, but no clue as to his whereabouts has as yet been found.

After the shooting the crowd of students which was in the store at the time was at a loss as to what should be done, but after some time had been lost, the police were notified. An affidavit has been issued against Jackson, and the police in the closest cities have been notified.

Those witnessing the shooting were: John Swain, Chas. Bell, Herbert Moore, Clay Bachelder, Lottie Tucker, Bernard Austin, LeRoy McLeod, Mitchell Tillotson, Don Brewer, Roy Lockwood, Paul Manuel and Gordon Thomas.

The shooting was done for Prof. Gough's moot court in the class of Brief Drawing and Debate.

DO YOU TAKE THE HERALD?

CLASS BASKETBALL PROSPECTS

Sophs Lead but Seniors Follow Close and Freshmen Play Well.

With four games over in the class tournament it begins to look as if the hardest fight for the championship would be between the Sophomores and the Seniors. Both of these teams have been playing good basketball and promise to put up a hard, fast game the next time they meet. The Freshmen too, are playing good basketball and have improved greatly since their first game. However, their defeat at the hand of the Seniors last Monday gave them a bad jolt in the race for first place honors.

The great trouble with class basketball so far this season is the fact that not all the men report for practice. Each class has some men who are acknowledged good basketball players who do not come out for class games. They seem disposed to stay out of class basketball, evidently depending on their reputation to win them a place on the varsity squad. "These men are badly mistaken," said Coach Cunningham today. "Any man who intends to make the varsity squad must come out now."

"We can't afford to waste time with men who are out of practice and in bad form when the regular varsity practice begins after Christmas," he added emphatically.

All men of the varsity squad who are playing on class teams are rapidly rounding into shape. Captain Pierson is playing a steady, consistent game for the Seniors and in Monday's game against the Sophomores he disclosed "hot stuff" that should help win varsity games this winter.

Austin and Fleming, too, are in good form. Austin has played good basketball for the Seniors at center while Fleming is proving the mainstay of the Junior team in the guarding department. Groat, the other member of last year's varsity squad who has so far reported for class practice, has been ill with an attack of lagrippe but will be in shape to play again by the first of the week.

Guthrie of the Sophomores and Myers and Delap for the Freshmen should prove strong contenders for places on the varsity squad. Guthrie is proving a great point guard for the Sophomores, while Myers and Delap are bolstering up the Freshmen team considerably. All three are fast men and cover lots of floor space.

Dennis Grady, '10, has recently been chosen as head coach in basketball, baseball and track and assistant in football at Northwestern university. He goes to this position from Alma College, Alma, Mich., where he was director of athletics. He is a brother of Captain-elect "Dick" Grady of the football squad.

BARNES REPRESENTS DEPAUW IN I. C. A. L.

Prof. N. W. Barnes will go to Indianapolis Saturday to attend a meeting of the I. C. A. L. Mr. Barnes will represent the DePauw Athletic Board. A change in the constitution will be discussed. All of the colleges in the state except Indiana and Purdue, belong to the association.

DR. TOWN COLLECTS $5000 IN ADVANCE

About 400 replies have already been received by Dr. Town in answer to the notices of second endowment payments being due. About $5000 has already been received. Dr. Town thinks this is a very promising showing since none of these payments are due until January 1.

ARRANGE FOR LOCAL CONTEST

Prohibition Oratorical to Come on February 19.

In spite of the seeming monopoly of the attention of DePauw students on the part of the state oratorical program the Prohibition Association is making arrangements for its local contest in February and several men are already preparing for it.

February 21 was submitted to Dr. Gohn as a possible date for the local contest but it was changed by his advice to the evening of the 19th.

The three judges on manuscript and the three judges on delivery will not be chosen until after the Christmas vacation but a meeting of the local association will be held in the near future to make all other possible arrangements.

The manuscripts of the contestants must be limited to 1500 words this year by the conditions set down by the association. The winner of the contest will receive a prize of $25 as usual and will represent the university in the state contest.

Among the men who have already said that they would enter the oratorical are: Roy Hudson, Arthur Bogue and Fred Thresher. About six men tried out last year but according to rumor at least eight or nine will enter the lists this time.

"The contest promises to be the best of recent years," said Russell Rakestraw, president of the local Prohibition Association, "and I want to urge everyone who can to come out. I also wish that all who intend to try out would hand me their names as soon as possible."

Helen Scott and Esther Edwards have been confined to their rooms in the Dorm for several days with slight attacks of tonsillitis. Monday morning the Dorm was not heated properly and it is thought their illness is the result of colds caught that morning. Both of the girls expect to attend classes tomorrow.

CLASS TO INVESTIGATE COLLEGE CONVENTIONALITIES

Dr. Cecil North has assigned in his course in Social Psychology a paper to deal with customs and conventionalities at DePauw. The papers will require individual research and observation work and it is expected will present some interesting phases of college custom with interesting suggestions as to reform.

ACKNOWLEDGE IT.

Greencastle Has to Bow to the Inevitable—Scores of Endorsements Prove It.

After reading the public statement of this fellow-sufferer given below, you must come to this conclusion: A remedy which proved so beneficial years ago, with the kidneys can naturally be expected to perform the same work in similar cases. Read this:

George W. Wood, farmer, one mile east of Greencastle, Ind., says: "For the past ten or twelve years I have had 'disordered kidneys.' I suffered from severe pains in my back, and about four years ago I was in bad shape. I was hardly able to bear the pain in my back and a too frequent desire to pass the kidney secretions caused me annoyance. I finally sent to Jones, Stevens Co.'s Drug Store for Doan's Kidney Pills. I had taken less than the contents of one box and I was relieved. I am now well and therefore recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly."

The above statement was given January 8, 1909, and when Mr. Wood was interviewed on June 5, 1912, he said: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a fine remedy and I willingly confirm all I said in my former public statement recommending them."

RESIDENCE BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE WEDNESDAY EVENING

Home of Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon, on Ohio and Crown Streets, Scene of Blaze.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs.
Spurgeon, Ohio and Crown streets, was badly damaged by fire about 11:15 o'clock Wednesday night. The fire originated in the chimney, it is believed. Mr. Spurgeon was not at home at the time of the fire.

Employees at the gas works first saw the flames and turned in the fire alarm. When the fire wagons arrived the entire roof, almost, was afire. Most of the furniture had been carried from the house by neighbors.

A room in the rear of the residence was burned and the roof over the entire house badly damaged. The walls and floors were damaged by water. The loss is estimated at about $600. Mr. Spurgeon carried $500 on the house. The house was a five-room frame structure.

PROFESSOR KLEINSMID'S WORK AT REFORMATORY

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Dec. 11.—
Professor Rufus Bernhardt von KleinSmid, associate superintendent of the Indiana reformatory, is finishing the preliminary work of the new department of psychology at the institution. At present, however, he has no permanent laboratory, but has temporary quarters in the chapel building with equipment used in testing the mentality, will power and power of concentration of inmates of the institution. Professor von Klein-Smid has two assistants, who however, do not give all their time to the department, but spend several hours a day teaching classes in the school of letters. They are John Paschal, a graduate of DePauw, and J. Bean-blossom, who is a Chicago university man.

A personal interview with every inmate of the institution was the first task that Professor KleinSmid set for himself. He said a few days ago that already he personally had interviewed more than six hundred of the inmates of the institution. He interviews every newcomer and proposes to get through the entire enrollment again, man by man, as soon as he complete his first review.

PARTICULARS BIG FOUR WRECK

passenger train No. 16, eastbound, ran into an open switch west of Sandford, Ind., and turned over in the ditch. The train which is known as the "Twentieth Century Limited," is one of the New York Central Railroad's fastest trains and was said to have been going at a speed of 45 miles an hour when the accident occurred. The injured are:

Albert Cloak, 67 years old, 1701
Woodlawn avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., baggage man on passenger. Bad cuts about head; rib fractured; scalded on back, arms and legs. May die.

Frank Pressler, Mattoon, Ill., engineer passenger train. Penetrating wound in thigh; wounds about head and chest. Not serious.

Kilburn McKinzie, Mattoon, Ill., passenger, fractured rib; general contusions about body. Not serious.

H. V. Joseph, Robinson, Ill. Bruised
about face and body.

Mrs. Carrie Musser, Ashland, Ky.
Suffering from shock. Not serious.

Ben Baker, a negro, Cleveland, O.; injured about the head.

F. C. Gilson, Marion, Ind., slight injuries about body.

The wreck of the Twentieth Century Limited train occurred at the west end of the Sandford switch, at almost the same spot where the train wreck and explosion took such a heavy toll of human life nine years ago. According to Trainmaster Zeigler of Terre Haute, who was in charge of the relief train, the wreck was due to an open switch and the blame has been placed between members of a freight train crew, which used the switch a short time before,
and members of the section gang.

Train Jumps Track.

According to passengers on the ill-fated train, when the train struck the open switch, the entire train consisting of the engine, mail car, baggage car and four Pullman coaches, jumped the track and all but the two rear coaches were thrown on their sides in the ditch to the right of the track. So great was the force of the train that the tender of the engine was thrown complet-ly over the engine, while the mail car next to the engine was thrown over the tender and engine across the track. This car was almost a total wreck. The baggage car was telescoped by the engine and the engine is a mass of twisted iron and lies half buried in the mud at the side of the track. Behind the baggage car was a large coach of steel construction.

This coach was thrown over on its side, its truck were torn loose but the body of the car is intact and only a few of the windows are broken. Damage to the other four coaches consists mainly of broken trucks.

Wreck trains and crews from Indianapolis and Mattoon arrived late yesterday afternoon and began clearing up the debris. Traffic on the railroad was blocked for hours. All of the regular trains were detoured around the wreck over the Vandalia Railroad.

Veteran Employee Hurt.

Albert Cloak, the baggage man, who was seriously injured, is the oldest man employed in the train service of the New York Central Lines in point of actual service. Mr. Cloak said last night:

"Had I worked tomorrow, I would have completed my forty-seventh year with the company in the train service. I owe my escape from instant death to the fact that there was a shipping box in my car containing a corpse. When the train left the track, the box was thrown through the open side door and I was hurled against the box. The box protected me from the jets of steam from the engine, although as it is, I am pretty badly scalded.

"I have been in several train wrecks, including some headon collisions, during my 47 years, but this is the worst in my experience."

Engineer Has Close Call.

The train was in charge of Conductor Thomas Lawler of Indianapolis and Engineer Frank Pressler of Mattoon. The escape of Engineer Pressler was considered miraculous, as the accident occurred with the suddenness of thought. Pressler, when the engine left the track was thrown clear of the wreck and a second later his seat in the cab was a splintered mass of kindling and the front end of the baggage car was jammed against the boiler. The large engine, one of the largest types of railroad speeders, is a mass of twisted iron.

Dr. T. W. Moorhead, who attended the injured at St. Anthony's Hospital, announced last night that all of the injured are resting well, with the exception of Albert Cloak, whose injuries are more serious than first reported. Mr. Cloak suffered a badly bruised face. His left ear was almost severed and there is a deep gash behind the right ear. He also received deep scalding burns on the back and legs, and a fractured rib.
